

FLIGHT

Soaring, this slender silhouette aspires to elevation. A final impulse pushes her upwards, into the air, propelling her towards her destiny. Buoyed by the joy of someone coming out of the darkness who sees light in the distance, she strikes out on her journey with fervour, drawing strength from her convictions alone. The artist captures that precise moment in which she breaks free from subjection. Movement grounded in the passion to rise above, Flight invites us to dare to move toward emancipation, rising to reach light, knowledge and truth.

« Destiny is not a chain but a flight. »

Alessandro Barrico
